

SHEPHERDSTOWN, VA.

SATURDAY,-----APRIL 10, 1858.

New Goods.

Mr. A. HUMPHREY is now receiving and opening a large stock of Ready-made Clothing and Notions, which he offers at reduced prices. Advertisement will appear next week.

Entire's Hotel.

It will be seen by reference to an advertisement in to-day's paper that Mr. WILLIAM LAMBRIGHT has taken charge of the Hotel so long and well conducted by Mr. DANIEL ENTIRE. This large, commodious and ventilated edifice, which is so well calculated for a Public House, has undergone a complete renovation and replenished with new furniture, &c., at the expense of Mr. LAMBRIGHT, with a view to render his guests and the "weary traveler" every comfort that may be brought into action. Billy is always ready and on the alert with an eye single in promoting the happiness and welfare of all who may place themselves under his care, and all who may "turn in" for the night. He is also kind, clever and affable, just suited to the responsible post he has assumed. Although small in stature he has a big heart which is in the right place and always beating with a considerable degree of good feeling for all around him. He is a gentleman of no ordinary stamp, and a host in every particular, in every way qualified for the position he has undertaken.

Then there is the land-lady, Mrs. L., the Hostess, who superintends the domestic and culinary affairs. She is always found "bobbin' around" directing her servants to perform their respective tasks assigned them—some attending to the chamber apartments and others to the cooking operations; and we frankly assert that a better, more varied and exuberant assortment of "eating fixtures" could not be found anywhere, always served to her guests "done up brown" and in every way imaginable to please the most fastidious epicure. She is also kind, agreeable and pleasant. She has her servants so well trained as to enable everything to move along with the regularity of clock-work.

The superior entertainment at this Hotel is a great inducement to persons from the cities wishing to while away the summer months in this locality, as a more healthy and salubrious climate cannot be produced, and no better accommodation, in all its ramifications, cannot be had at a similar establishment in the State. Every accommodation appertaining to a well conducted Hotel can be found here. We have been induced to speak the above sentiments from experience and observation.

Corporation Election.

An election for Corporation officers for this place came off on Monday last, and resulted in electing the following gentlemen:—

Mayor—Joseph Welshans.
Recorder—George Byers.
Treasurer—Wm. M. Sheetz.
Town Sargeant—George M. Bast.
Councilmen.—Jonathan Nixon, John Smurr, Thompson Johnston, John Boroff, John L. Rickard, Abram Harris.
John D. Staley has been appointed Assessor.

Robbery.

We understand that the smoke-house of Mr. Jacob Grove, at the "Big Mill," a short distance east of this place, was robbed on Saturday night last, 3rd inst., of eleven or twelve choice pieces of Bacon, together with Mr. Grove's horse, taken from the Stable, upon which the thief or thieves conveyed the Bacon to this place, as the horse was found the next morning in our streets, considerably greased, all of which proves conclusively that the thief or thieves resided in or near this town. A vigilant eye should be kept open in trying to detect these mid-night marauders.

Accident.

Whilst Thomas HIRKINS, a very worthy colored man and Ostrer at the Hotel kept by Mr. WILLIAM LAMBRIGHT, was driving a horse attached to a buggy on Monday last, through Main Street, the horse became unmanageable by some cause, and "took out" at the rate of 2.40, and dashed against another vehicle on the side of the street, which caused so sudden a shock as to throw HIRKINS from the buggy upon the ground and injuring him severely although not seriously. We are glad to see him attending to his avocations again.

Easter Monday.

This day was generally observed in this place as a Holiday. Our streets were crowded the entire day with visitors from the country and other places of abode. The day was warm and genial, presenting a spring like attitude. A smart sprinkling of the colored population was also perambulating our streets, and seemed to enjoy themselves exceedingly, as they do upon all Holiday occasions.

Death of Dr. J. Kearsley Mitchell.

Dr. J. K. Mitchell, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Freemasons in Pennsylvania, died in Philadelphia on Sunday night last. He was born in Shepherdstown, (Va.) on the 12th of May, 1798, and was educated in Scotland. His scientific, literary, political, and miscellaneous productions are of a high order of excellence, many of them rare gems of beauty and sweetness. As a physician he stood among the most eminent of the profession; as a writer he was brilliant and profound; as a citizen he was justly honored and admired.

The above we clip from an exchange. There are yet a few of our oldest inhabitants living who knew him, he having left this place when but a youth.

The National Hotel Disease.

The National Hotel Disease, about which the papers were filled a year ago, is yet a topic of discussion. The New York Journal of Commerce says:

"We conversed, on Tuesday, with a very intelligent gentleman of this city, one of the officers of the American Telegraph Company, who is among the sufferers by the mysterious disease which broke out in Washington city just prior to the last presidential inauguration. From a condition of great bodily vigor and a corpulency he has gradually wasted until reduced to a feeble invalid. During the many weary days of confinement allotted to him he has watched the progress of the malady till the list of deceased victims has reached twenty-seven, including many eminent names; and he calculates that out of a total of three hundred sufferers at least one half are in a state of decrepitude no better than his own. In spite of all the theories which have been advanced by medical men & sanitary committees, he adheres to the belief that the fatal 'epidemic,' as it was called, was occasioned by nothing else than a malignant mineral poison; and the same opinions is held by other sufferers with whom he has conversed."

Up to a recent period he was treated by a physician of this neighborhood as for a malarious or atrophic poison, with no perceptible benefit; but upon the physician and treatment being changed, substituting an antidote to arsenic, favorable symptoms became at once apparent, and he is able to leave his apartment."

We know several sufferers, says the Washington Union, who express the same opinion as that quoted above and feel confident that they were "poisoned."

Election of Officers.

The newly elected Board of Directors of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, at their meeting in Washington, on Wednesday the 24th ult., appointed the following officers, who entered upon the discharge of their duties on the 1st inst.

General Superintendent and Engineer—John G. Stone, of Clearspring; (the present Senator of Washington co., Md.)

Superintendents—First Division—Georgetown, Horace Benton, of Montgomery; Second Division—Monocacy, Silas Brawning, of Rockville; Third Division—Antietam, Levi Benton, of Sharpsburg; Fourth Division—Williamsport, A. K. Stake, of Williamsport; Fifth Division—Hancock, Lewis G. Stanhope, of Washington county; Sixth Division—Cumberland, Lloyd Lowe, of Cumberland.

Collectors of Tolls—Georgetown, D. C., J. McHenry Hollingsworth; Williamsport, John A. Rickard; Hancock, Henry Wells; Cumberland, John A. Shaw.

Assistant Collector at Georgetown—Clement A. Peck.

Hon. H. W. Hoffman, of Cumberland, was then appointed treasurer from the 1st of June next, in place of Samuel Magraw, who resigned some time since. The office at present held by Mr. Ringgold was not interfered with.

A motion to move the office of the company either to Cumberland or to Frederick was rejected.

It is stated that Col. Maelsby will have the present officers notified not to surrender their offices to the new appointees.

SUICIDE OF A BALTIMOREAN.—John Laing, a bricklayer, from Baltimore, who had been engaged at the Little tunnel, on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, on Wednesday night last, committed suicide by throwing himself upon the track, where, in the darkness of the tunnel, he was struck by a train and literally torn to atoms. The Wheeling Argus says:

Laing was monomaniacal upon religious subjects, and had been upon a visit to Baltimore. On Sunday week, near Harper's Ferry, he had three or four times seated himself upon the track with a suicidal intent, but was removed upon the arrival of trains, until conductor Dakehart took him up and brought him to Littleton, where he was handed over to his friends. Sometime during Wednesday night he escaped from the house of his father-in-law, and on Thursday morning the mangled remains were found beswearing the track in the tunnel. There seems to be no doubt, from the circumstances in the case, but that his shocking death was the result of a deliberate resolve upon suicide.

He was arrested and put in jail, and pretends to be deranged, but is believed to be "playing possum."

The Indians in League with the Mormons.

A party of cherokees, six in number, that left the nation in November last, on a trading expedition to the plains, returned two weeks ago, to Fort Gibson, and report that twenty three days' travel south from the salt plains they came upon a large number of Camanche, Kiowah, Waco, and Wincheta Indians assembled in council, who received them very friendly and traded with them freely for the goods they brought out. The council had under consideration the best method of resisting the United States, and informed the Cherokees that they were just visited by a party of "Mormons and Mexicans," from whom they had received a large quantity of presents, and had made a treaty with them for their mutual protection against the encroachments of the gentiles. The Mormons have impressed upon those tribes the necessity of uniting with them and taking a decided stand against the United States if they wish to retain their hunting grounds, stating that as soon as the whites are in possession of Utah they will then spread all over the plains and drive the Indians from their present homes. No doubt the hostility of those tribes will be principally directed against this frontier wherever they can find it most exposed.

A Maryland Heroine.

The Washington correspondent of the New Orleans Picayune, in a recent letter, gives the annexed interesting incident:

Among the naval officers dropped by the Naval Retiring Board, was captain Smoot, who had received the thanks of Congress and been voted a sword by the State of Maryland for his gallant services in the war of 1812. The sentence of the Board fell upon him with crushing weight, and the mortification which it occasioned him, is believed to have hastened his death, which occurred some months since. His widow, feeling the responsibility resting upon her to vindicate the fame of her deceased husband, when the first month of grief had passed, set about rearing the noblest monument to his memory which a Roman matron could have desired.

Taking the Maryland sword, she proceeded with it to Annapolis, during the recent session of the Legislature. Here she presented her memorial setting forth the action of the Naval Board in her husband's case, and suggesting that if he had been justly condemned by that secret tribunal, the gift of Maryland had been unworthily bestowed, and ought to be no longer retained by his family. Accordingly she begged leave to return the sword to the State, with the request that if the Legislature believed her husband had been injured by the inquiry, they would make some disposition of the token of confidence and regard that should stand as a rebuke of his persecutors, and vindicate his fair fame.

The Legislature at once accepted the return of the sword, and passed a vote almost unanimously bestowing it upon the gallant captain's son, a manly lad of some fourteen summers. Mrs. Smoot's conduct makes her quite a heroine; and the success of her plan for preserving the laurel upon her husband's tomb, has filled a cup of consolation for his loss, if we may judge by the joy which animates her countenance as she points to the noble evidence of her husband's worth.

From the Utah Army.

New York, April 5.—Advices from the Utah army to the 16th of February have been received. The health of the army was good, and the march upon Salt Lake would probably commence on the 10th of May.

The grass was far advanced, and several hundred recruits had arrived at fort Leavenworth previous to the 29th of March. Preparations were making at the latter place for the early forwarding of reinforcements. Col. Hoffman's command had been met 400 miles west of Fort Leavenworth.

Col. Johnson's supplies would not last longer than May, but there were at Fort Scott four months' supplies for 3,000 men, and a train would be dispatched from that point to Fort Scott immediately.

St. Louis, April 5.—Dates to the first of March state that Col. Johnson had an effective force of 1,800 men, and 1,000 animals, in good condition, with a large volunteer force, and the general impression was that he would not wait reinforcements before making an attack.

There is nothing known of the Mormon preparations.

ALWIVES.—The Washington Star says Mr. Carson, of Alexandria, who is fishing below Maryland Point, made a haul, the like of which was never before heard of. In hauling for shad his men drew out upward of 100,000 alwives; they filled the sein to overflowing and rendered it necessary, lest the netting should be broken in hauling, to raise it up, allowing a considerable number to escape. Old fishermen say that the presence of these fish at this early season of the shad fishing, bodes no good, and that the shad will leave early.

Report of the Executive Committee.

Article 10th of your Constitution makes it the duty of the Executive Committee, to lay before the Society, at each annual meeting, a statement of its financial condition. In compliance with that requirement, your committee respectfully offers the following statement as its report:

The Treasurer's amended report having been submitted to the committee, reference to the statement of items therein contained is hereby made for the particulars or receipts and disbursements. The receipts, embracing a balance of $67.23 from last report, amounts to the sum of $3,383.27. The disbursements for premiums and the necessary expenses of the Society, (for all of which, the Treasurer has proper vouchers,) amounts to $3,353.75, and have a balance still on hand of $29.52.

The admirable improvements made by order of the Society have answered the purposes for which they were intended, and have cost in the aggregate the sum of $2,453.50. The amount paid on this expenditure is $2,096.52, leaving a balance of $357.98, to be provided for from the future receipts of the Society. There is, however a sum due from members, which will be amply sufficient for the discharge of this debt, if energetic measures are taken for the collection of these dues.

A meeting of the Democrats of Nos. 5 and 6, was held at the house of Mr. Joseph Entler in Shepherdstown, on Saturday the 3rd inst., when on motion, Dr. I. S. TANNER was called to the Chair, and Joun O'CONNELL appointed Secretary.

Mr. G. D. McGlinney explained the object of the meeting and on his motion it was

Resolved, That a vote be taken to decide the sense of the meeting as to the propriety or impropriety of holding a county convention to nominate candidates for county officers to be voted for in May next.

The vote being taken, it was decided that it was inexpedient to have a Convention. A motion was made to reconsider the vote, which was agreed to.

On the vote being again taken, it was a second time decided inexpedient to have a party convention for the present Spring campaign.

The Lieutenant Governorship.

We clip the following from the Richmond Enquirer, of the 25th of March:

TO THE PEOPLE OF VIRGINIA.

Having discharged the duties of the office of Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth, by appointment of the Governor, and by a unanimous election by the General Assembly, I announce myself as a candidate for re-election, subject to the decision of the Democratic party, if a State Convention be deemed necessary.

Trouble Between the United States and Mexico.

Excitement in Texas.—By way of New Orleans we have interesting intelligence from Texas. On the 17th an express arrived at San Antonio from Capt. Brackett, commanding at Fort McIntosh, with despatches for Gen. Twiggs and Gov. Ramsell. It is stated that the authorities of Mexico have committed high-handed outrages upon certain citizens of the United States, and have even gone so far as to seize some of them and press them into the Mexican army. A public meeting had been held at Laredo, in Texas, when and where the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, we have certain and positive information that the alcalds of Mexico, has seized citizens of Webb county, Texas, and has violently forced them to take arms as Mexican soldiers, knowing they were citizens of the United States.

1. Be it Resolved, That we view with the utmost indignation such outrages upon the rights and persons of United States citizens perpetrated by Mexican officials.

2. Resolved, That such acts on the part of Mexican authorities demand, in justice, full and prompt reparation to the honor and dignity of the nationality of the United States.

3. Resolved, That we consider these overt acts of Mexican officials as flagrant breeches of the laws of nations, justifying, if unaloned, a declaration of war.

4. Resolved, That we call on the Commanding General of this Military Department to take such measures as may be within his power to protect our citizens from the hostile designs entertained against their sacred liberties by the Mexican officials along the line of the Rio Grande in general, and those of Guerrero in particular.

5. Resolved, That we call the attention of the General and State Government to the continuous outrages which desolate the frontier line of the Rio Grande; that the Rio Grande is no sufficient boundary, as Indian war parties and criminals pass it easily, and set our authorities at defiance.

A TALL COMPANY.—They have organized a volunteer company in Charlestown within the past few weeks, which numbers upwards of fifty members—they expect to be uniformed in time for the May musters. They are commanded by Capt. John W. Rowan, and we understand that more than twenty of them are over six feet high.
